2. OVERVIEW

Only trustees have the legal responsibility and authority to make Library policy. Policies should be clearly written, easy to understand and easily accessible by the trustees, staff and public. Library policies should be developed, kept up to date and distributed in a timely manner. Policies:

- 2.1 Align the Library's goals, objectives, plans and procedures with its mission;
- 2.2 Ensure that Library activities are conducted in compliance with applicable laws, ethical norms and accepted best practices;
- 2.3 Assure that Library users and staff are treated fairly and consistently;

- 2.6 Encourage informed and active decision-making by anticipating needs before they become problems.

3. STATEMENT OF POLICY

- A. Development of new policies: The Library director, trustees, staff or Library users may identify the need for a new policy. If the Board agrees that a suggestion for a new policy has merit, a draft will be prepared. Preparation of the draft shall be a collaborative process between the Library director and the Policy Committee, with input obtained where appropriate from staff, legal counsel or other individuals who are knowledgeable about the subject matter or who are responsible for carrying out tasks addressed by the policy.
- B. Reviewing and revising policies: Policies shall be reviewed monthly by the Policy Committee. The Library director should keep the Board informed about changing circumstances, needs, or legal obligations that might require a change in policy. The director shall work together with the Policy Committee to keep policies up to date. Information and advice may be solicited from staff, legal counsel or other knowledgeable individuals during the review process. If revision is required, a draft document showing the current policy with all proposed changes will be prepared and presented to the Board for discussion and adoption. If the changes are so substantial that it is impractical to show them all, both the current policy and a draft containing the proposed revisions will be provided. The current policy will remain in force during the review and updating process.
- C. Adoption of policies: Policies may be created, revised or repealed by a vote constituting a majority of the Board membership. Such action may be taken only after the substance of the proposed new policy, revision or repeal has been presented in writing and discussed at a Board meeting.
- D. Policy distribution: The Library shall maintain an up-to-date policy manual available to trustees, staff and the public. Upon adoption by the Board, new or revised policies shall be added to the manual and posted on the Library's website, and repealed or replaced policies shall be removed. 20.7 PARLIAMENTARY AUTHORITY

The rules contained in the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised shall govern the proceedings of the Board of Trustees in all cases to which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the Association's Bylaws.

20.8 PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

The main purpose of Board meetings is to conduct the official business of the Library. The Board of Trustees welcomes public input in its deliberations and recognizes the importance of giving the public an opportunity to speak about interests or concerns related to the Library. Therefore, it is the policy of the Board to invite audience participation at each regular Board meeting.

Those wishing to address the Board must fill out the Public Comment Request Form and give it to the Board President (or other presiding officer) before the meeting begins.

Audience participation is limited to the public comment portion or portions of the meeting as indicated in the agenda. In order to allow the Board to complete its business in a reasonable amount of time, each public comment period will last no longer than thirty (30) minutes. No comments from the public will be accepted at any other times during the meeting, except at the specific invitation of the presiding officer.

The presiding officer may set time limits for input on each topic and may require groups or organizations to select a spokesperson to address the Board.

Individuals may address the Board after being recognized by the presiding officer. Speakers will preface their comments by announcing their name, address and any organization they may be representing at the meeting. Each person or representative of a group may speak for up to three minutes, and no participant may speak more than once on the same topic. Persons addressing the Board are expected to observe a level of civility and decorum appropriate for a public meeting. Vulgar, profane, defamatory or abusive remarks are always out of order. The presiding officer may terminate the speaker's privilege of address if, after being called to order, he or she persists in improper conduct or remarks.

Comments about the performance or conduct of individual employees of the Library, whether positive or negative, are not allowed. Such comments should be addressed in writing to the Library Director.

Trustees will not normally answer questions or engage in dialogue with the speaker. The Library Director will contact the speaker after the meeting to provide answers to any questions.

Undo interruption or other interference with the orderly conduct of Board business cannot be allowed. It is a violation of Board rules to shout out, jeer, or disrupt a meeting. The presiding officer may ask a disruptive person to leave or have him or her removed from the room.

At any time, the Board can consider a motion to change the participation rules for a particular meeting.

40.4 MATERIALS SELECTION POLICY

1. GOAL

- 1.1 The goal of the Port Jefferson Free Library is to provide access to information and ideas to its community. To achieve this goal, the Library purchases, stores, and provides access to material which records the knowledge and experience of humanity. The Library recognizes its responsibility to give access to recorded information and ideas, regardless of format. Therefore, the Library adopts the following policy to govern material selection and collection development:
- a. The Library collection should provide recreational reading and non-print materials for all ages.
 - b. The Library collection should facilitate informal self-education of members of the community.
 - c. The Library collection should serve as a balanced reference source making information available on subjects of possible interest to the community.
 - d. Patron requests for purchases should be given consideration by the librarians. When a specific title is requested through inter-library loan, purchase should also be evaluated.
 - e. General factors influencing materials selection should be community needs, individual merit of each title, the existing collection, and the Library budget. Selection should be made by a librarian, choosing from standard and generally accepted lists and recognized critical sources. The needs of the community should be evaluated continually and reflected in the acquisitions program.
 - f. Gifts should meet the same standards as acquisitions.
 - g. Periodicals should be acquired in relation to the needs of the community and secured in a form that is easy to store, handle and circulate.
 - h. Non-print materials and on-line media should be selected according to the same standards applied to books, with additional attention paid to technical quality.
 - i. Materials should be withdrawn from the collection when they are in poor physical condition, obsolete, or fail to be of use to the community. Withdrawn books and materials will be disposed of in the following ways:
 1. Appropriate titles will be sent to Last Copy/Special Collections for those that are one of a kind in the system. Others will be offered to Member Libraries via the Gifts and Exchange Program.
 2. Of the remaining books and materials those with a reasonable chance of being sold will be offered to the Friends for sale to the general public.
 3. Some books and materials will be offered to other non-profit organizations. Those who accept these donations will be required to sign a waiver of physical liability.
 4. The remaining books and materials will be recycled or disposed of as determined by the Librarian withdrawing the titles.
 - j. Patrons who object to a particular title in the Library collection will be requested to complete the "Patron Request for Reconsideration of Library Material" form. The Library Director will review this request and submit a recommendation to the Board of Trustees, who will notify the patron of its action. The title will remain in the collection during this reconsideration process.
 - k. The Library endorses the statements on material selection as expressed in the Library Bill of Rights, adopted and amended by the American Library Association.

2. EVALUATION

- 2.1 This policy on material selection shall be evaluated periodically by the Library Board of Trustees and shall be revised according to the needs of the Library and the community.
- 2.2 Policy directly related to the internet and its use is stated in a separate document.

40.5 INTERNET AND PUBLIC COMPUTER USE POLICY

1. The Port Jefferson Free Library provides internet access for educational, informational and recreational use to cardholders of all ages. Access is provided through a variety of resources including but not limited to public computers, laptops, and the Library's wireless network. Patrons must have a valid Suffolk County library card in good standing to gain access to the Library's public computers, laptops, or other devices. Non-cardholders may present appropriate identification to obtain a guest pass. Port Jefferson Free Library cardholders will have priority with regard to use of equipment. The Library may impose restrictions such as time limits or types of use on Library equipment.
2. While the internet offers access to many valuable sources of information, not all sources provide information that is current, accurate, complete, or content-appropriate to a Library patron. The Port Jefferson Free Library makes no warranty, expressed or implied, for the timeliness, accuracy, usefulness for a particular purpose, or appropriateness of information accessed via the internet.
3. As with other Library materials, restriction of access to electronic resources for children seventeen (17) years and under is the sole responsibility of the parent/legal guardian. Parents have full responsibility to advise their children if there are materials which they do not want them to use and to supervise their children's internet sessions at the Library. Computer use in an age-appropriate environment is available in both the Children (fifth grade and under) and Teens (sixth grade through age 17) departments.
4. The Library uses technology protection measures to filter content in accordance with the Children's Internet Protection Act (CIPA). The filtering software is designed to block the access of minors to material that is obscene, child pornography, or harmful to minors, as defined by law; and to block the access of adults to material that is obscene or child pornography. Since no internet filter product is perfect, the Library cannot guarantee that overblocking or underblocking will not occur. By law, patrons eighteen (18) years of age and older may request that the filter be disabled, without justification and in a timely manner, to enable access for bona fide research or other lawful purposes. Users of all ages may request access to appropriate sites that are wrongfully blocked by the filtering software.
5. The Library undertakes a variety of measures to protect the privacy of those who use Library computers. However, absolute privacy for patrons using electronic resources in public areas cannot be guaranteed. Privacy can be compromised if someone views a user's screen or accesses an unattended computer. Users are urged to be cautious and to respect the sensibilities of others when accessing information that may reasonably be offensive to some.
6. Computing resources should be used in accordance with the policy of the Library.

Examples of unacceptable use include, but are not limited to:

- 6.1 Violation of computer system security;
- 6.2 Attempts to degrade, disrupt, or destroy the Library's computer hardware and software;
- 6.3 Unauthorized use of computer accounts, access codes, or network identification credentials assigned to others;

- 6.5 Violation of another user's privacy;
- 6.6 Display or dissemination of sexually explicit or sexually suggestive material;
- 6.7 Display or dissemination of child pornography or obscene materials and, in the case of minors, materials deemed harmful to minors.

Library portable electronic devices may be borrowed by eligible Port Jefferson Free Library cardholders only. The Library card account must be current and in good standing. One device per PJFL cardholder may be checked out at a time. Cardholders under the age of eighteen (18) require authorization from a parent or adult guardian to check out a device for take-home use.
2. Borrowers assume full responsibility for all costs associated with damage to or replacement of the Library's portable electronic devices and their associated peripheral equipment.

4. Borrowers must use headphones or in-ear devices when playing audio or video files in the Library.
5. Files cannot be saved on the Library's equipment. All files will be erased after the device is returned. Borrowers may not alter, delete or copy any software loaded onto borrowed portable electronic devices or otherwise change their existing configuration. Personal software cannot be loaded onto Library devices. No illegal activities using the Library's technology will be permitted (hacking, pirating, downloading illegal materials, etc.). Activities inconsistent with the Port Jefferson Free Library Internet Acceptable Use Policy, and the Policy Statement Governing Library Use and Maintenance of Public Order will not be tolerated and will result in suspension of Library privileges.
6. Damage to devices or their accessories, including but not limited to spilled food or beverages, will result in the borrower being charged for the cost of repairs or replacement if repair is not possible.
7. Borrowers are solely responsible for equipment that is lost, stolen or damaged while it is checked out to them. If Library staff observes a device left unattended, it will be retrieved and the borrower may be restricted from future use of equipment.
8. Take-home devices are on loan for seven days and can be renewed once. There is a late fee of one dollar ($1) a day which can accrue to a maximum of six dollars ($6). If a device is not returned, the first overdue notice will be sent five (5) days after the due date, and all borrowing privileges will be suspended. The final notice will be sent ten (10) days after the due date and will contain a bill for the replacement cost of the items.
9. In-house technology devices may not be checked out within thirty (30) minutes prior to Library closing.
10. All in-house and take-home devices must be returned fifteen (15) minutes prior to Library closing and must be physically handed to a staff member at the service desk from which they were initially borrowed. Borrowers may not leave returned equipment at an unattended service desk or in the bookdrop or audiovisual drop. Borrowers and staff should examine returned devices together to make sure that they are in working order.

11. Failure to comply with these guidelines may result in termination of all technology use privileges. Policies and procedures are subject to change without further notice. The Library's Policy on Circulating Portable Electronic Devices is available online or at the Library upon request.

4. The Library reserves the right to refuse a 3D print request.
5. The Library reserves the right to charge a fee that covers the printing costs. The fee will be waived in cases of mechanical failure, incomplete printing, or errors in the print process that are not due to design flaws.
6. The Port Jefferson Free Library makes no warranty, expressed or implied, of the usefulness for a particular purpose of any object produced by its 3D printers. The Library strongly recommends that 3D printers not be used to make objects that could cause personal injury or property damage if they fail during use.
7. Only designated Library staff will have hands-on access to the 3D printers.
8. In times of high demand, the Library may impose restrictions on printing.

4. Sustain quality operations.
5. Uphold the core values and mission of the Port Jefferson Free Library.

The Port Jefferson Free Library has identified as critical, only those priority functions that are required, or are necessary to provide vital services. During the activation of this Plan, all other activities may be suspended to enable the organization to focus on meeting the critical functions and building the internal capabilities necessary to increase and eventually restore operations. Appropriate communications with employees, contractors, and other stakeholders will be an ongoing priority.

Essential functions are prioritized according to:

- The time criticality of each essential function.
- Interdependency of a one function to others.
- The recovery sequence of essential functions and their vital processes.

Priority 1 categorization identifies the most essential of functions, with priority 4 identifying functions that are essential, but not relatively paramount.

The mission essential functions for the Port Jefferson Free Library have been identified as:

Essential Positions

Each essential function identified above requires certain positions on-site to effectively implement the identified functions. The table below identifies the positions or titles which are essential to be staffed on-site for the continued operation of each essential function. Note that while some functions and associated personnel may be essential, some of them may be conducted remotely and do not require identification in this section.

7. REDUCING RISK THROUGH REMOTE WORK AND STAGGERED SHIFTS

Through assigning certain staff to work remotely and by staggering work shifts, the Library can decrease crowding and density at work sites and on public transportation.

Remote Work Protocols

Non-essential employees and contractors able to accomplish their functions remotely will be directed to do so to the greatest extent possible. Working remotely requires:

1. Identification of staff who will work remotely.
2. Approval and assignment of remote work.
3. Equipping staff for remote work, which may include:
 - a. Internet capable laptop
 - b. Necessary peripherals
 - c. Access to VPN and/or secure network drives
 - d. Access to software and databases necessary to perform their duties
 - e. A means for telephone communications
 - i. Note that phone lines may need to be forwarded to off-site staff

The Director, Business Manager, and Department Supervisors will collaborate to identify staff/positions that can effectively work remotely. The Director will approve staff/positions eligible to work remotely. Department Supervisors will be responsible for assignment and review of remote work. The Network Manager, and Department Supervisors will evaluate the equipment and software needed and made available for those staff/positions approved for remote work by the Director. The Network Manager will provide software access and maintain a list of all equipment being used by staff for remote work. (See attached Employee Equipment Log Sheet)

Staggered Shifts

Implementing staggered shifts may be possible for personnel performing duties which are necessary to be performed on-site but less necessary to being accomplished within core business hours. As possible, management will identify opportunities for staff to work outside core business hours as a strategy for limiting exposure. Staggering shifts requires:

1. Identification of positions for which work hours will be staggered.
2. Approval and assignment of changed work hours.

The Director, Network and System Specialist, Library Coordinators, and Department Heads will collaborate to identify positions for which work hours will be staggered. The Director will approve all temporarily changed work hours. Staggered work shifts will be between 7:00 a.m. – 9:00 p.m. and may include weekends. Facility safety and security measures will remain in place during staggered shifts. The Library Coordinators will assure a “Librarian-in-Charge” is identified for all staggered shifts.

8. PERSONAL PROTECTIVE EQUIPMENT

The use of personal protective equipment (PPE) to reduce the spread of infectious disease is important to supporting the health and safety of Library employees and contractors. PPE which may be needed can include:

- Masks
- Face shields
- Gloves
- Disposable gowns and aprons

Note that while cleaning supplies are not PPE, there is a related need for cleaning supplies to be employed to sanitize surfaces, as well as hand soap and hand sanitizer. The Coronavirus pandemic demonstrated that supply chains were not able to maintain the increased demand for these products early in the pandemic. As such, this Plan is including these supplies in this section as they are pertinent to protecting the health and safety of employees and contractors.

Protocols for providing PPE include the following:

1. Identification of need for PPE based upon job duties and work location.
2. Procurement of PPE:
 - a. As specified in the amended law, public employers must be able to provide at least two pieces of each required type of PPE to each essential employee and contractor during any given work shift for at least six months.
 - b. Public employers must be able to mitigate supply chain disruptions to meet this requirement.
3. Storage of, access to, and monitoring of PPE stock:
 - a. PPE must be stored in a manner which will prevent degradation.
 - b. Employees and contractors must have immediate access to PPE in the event of an emergency.
 - c. The supply of PPE must be monitored to ensure integrity and to track usage rates.

The Port Jefferson Free Library has identified the following PPE and cleaning supplies as applicable to the needs of daily operations during a public health emergency: face shields, disposable masks, disposable gloves, washable gloves, hand sanitizer, Disinfecting wipes, and disinfecting spray. Disposable mask and hand sanitizer are relevant to all staff, while the other items are predominantly relevant to the shipping and maintenance staff. The following are current vendors whom Suffolk Cooperative Library System has purchased the identified PPE from in the past and will continue to purchase PPE from in the future:

- Global Industrial Supply – globalindustrial.com – 888-978-7759
- Ocean Janitorial – oceanjanitorial.com – 631-581-4276
- Uline – uline.com – 800-295-5510
- To-A-T Cleaning Services – 631-476-4863
- W.B. Mason – wbmason.com – 888-wbmason

9. STAFF EXPOSURES

Staff exposures are organized under several categories based upon the type of exposure and presence of symptoms. Following CDC guidelines, the Library has established the following protocols:

- A. If employees or contractors are exposed to a known case of a communicable disease that is the subject of the public health emergency (defined as ‘close contact’ with someone who is confirmed infected, which is a prolonged presence within six feet with that person):
 1. Potentially exposed employees or contractors who do not have symptoms should remain at home or in a comparable setting, and practice social distancing for the lesser of 14 days or other current CDC/public health guidance for the communicable disease in question.
 - a. As possible, these employees will be permitted to work remotely during this period of time if they are not ill.
 - b. The Business Manager is notified of all necessary quarantining and is responsible for ensuring these protocols are followed.
 - c. See the section titled “Documentation of Work Hours and Locations” for additional information on contact tracing.

2. CDC guidelines for COVID-19 provide that critical essential employees may be permitted to continue work following potential exposure, provided they remain symptom-free and additional precautions are taken to protect them, other employees and contractors, and the Library's constituency/public.
 - a. Additional precautions will include the requirement of the subject employee or contractor, as well as others working in their proximity, to wear appropriate PPE at all times to limit the potential of transmission.
 - b. In-person interactions with the subject employee or contractor will be limited as much as possible.
 - c. Work areas in which the subject employee or contractor are present will be disinfected according to current CDC/public health protocol at least every hour, as practical. [See the section on Cleaning and Disinfection for additional information on that subject.]
 - d. If at any time they exhibit symptoms, refer to item B below.
 - e. In these circumstances, the Library Director will determine eligibility and the Business Office Manager is responsible for ensuring these protocols are followed.
- B. If an employee or contractor exhibits symptoms of the communicable disease that is the subject of the public health emergency:
 1. Employees and contractors who exhibit symptoms in the workplace should be immediately separated from other employees, patrons, and visitors. They should immediately be sent home with a recommendation to contact their physician.
 2. Employees and contractors who exhibit symptoms outside of work should notify their supervisor and stay home, with a recommendation to contact their physician.
 3. Employees should not return to work until they have met the criteria to discontinue home isolation per CDC/public health guidance and have consulted with a healthcare provider.
 4. The Port Jefferson Free Library will not require sick employees to provide a negative test result for the disease in question or healthcare provider's note to validate their illness, qualify for sick leave, or return to work; unless there is a recommendation from the CDC/public health officials to do so.
 5. CDC criteria for COVID-19 provides that persons exhibiting symptoms may return to work if at least 24 hours have passed since the last instance of fever without the use of fever-reducing medications. If the disease in question is other than COVID-19, CDC and other public guidance shall be referenced.
 6. The Business Manager must be informed in these circumstances and is responsible for ensuring that these protocols are followed.
- C. If an employee or contractor has tested positive for the communicable disease that is the subject of the public health emergency:
 1. Apply the steps identified in item B, above, as applicable.
 2. Areas occupied for prolonged periods of time by the subject employee or contractor will be closed off.
 - a. CDC guidance for COVID-19 indicates that a period of 24 hours is ideally given, provided until such time as cleaning, disinfecting, and reoccupation of those spaces occurs. If this time period is not possible, a period of as long as possible will be observed. CDC/public health guidance for the disease in question will be followed.
 - b. Any common areas entered, surfaces touched, or equipment used shall be cleaned and disinfected immediately.
 - c. See the section on Cleaning and Disinfection for additional information on that subject.

3. Identification of potential employee and contractor exposures will be conducted.
 - a. If an employee or contractor is confirmed to have the disease in question, the Director or his/her designee will inform all contacts of their possible exposure. Confidentiality shall be maintained as required by HIPAA.
 - b. Apply the steps identified in item A, above, as applicable, for all potentially exposed personnel.
4. The Business Manager must be notified in these circumstances and is responsible for ensuring these protocols are followed.

We recognize there may be nuances or complexities associated with potential exposures, close contacts, symptomatic persons, and those testing positive. The Library will follow CDC/public health recommendations and requirements and coordinate with our local public health office for additional guidance and support as needed.

10. CLEANING AND DISINFECTING

CDC/public health guidelines will be followed for cleaning and disinfection of surfaces/areas. Present guidance for routine cleaning during a public health emergency includes:

1. As possible, employees and contractors will clean their own workspaces in the beginning, middle, and end of their shifts, at a minimum.
 - a. High traffic/high touch areas and areas which are accessible to the public/patrons will be disinfected at least hourly.
 - b. The Custodial Manager is responsible for assigning and supervising the cleaning of common areas twice daily (See attached Daily Cleaning Log)
2. Staff tasked with cleaning and disinfecting areas will be issued and required to wear PPE appropriate to the task.
3. Soiled surfaces will be cleaned with soap and water before being disinfected.
4. Surfaces will be disinfected with products that meet EPA criteria for use against the virus in question and which are appropriate for that surface.
5. Staff will follow instructions prescribed by the manufacturers of cleaning products to ensure safe and effective use of their products.

11. EMPLOYEE AND CONTRACTOR LEAVE

Public health emergencies are extenuating and unanticipated circumstances in which The Port Jefferson Free Library is committed to reducing the burden on our employees and contractors. The Families First Coronavirus Response Act provides requirements related to the COVID-19 pandemic, which inform the policies outlined below. These policies may be altered based upon changes in law or regulation, as applicable.

It is the Library's policy that employees of the Port Jefferson Free Library will not be charged with leave time for necessary testing. The Library will follow the directives of the NYS COVID-19 sick leave, as long as that directive remains in effect. Employees who travel out of the state voluntarily will be required to use their own paid leave if they are required to test or quarantine prior to a return to work, based on current State requirements related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Additional provisions may be enacted based upon need and the guidance and requirements in place by federal and state employment laws, FMLA, executive orders, and other authoritative sources.

Contractors, either independent or affiliated with a contracted firm, are not classified as employees of the Port Jefferson Free Library, and as such are not provided with paid leave time by the Port Jefferson Free Library, unless required by law.

12. DOCUMENTATION OF WORK HOURS AND LOCATIONS

In a public health emergency, it may be necessary to document work hours and locations of each employee and contractor to support contact tracing efforts. Identification of locations shall include on-site work, off-site visits. This information may be used by the Port Jefferson Free Library to support contact tracing within the organization and may be shared with local public health officials.

On-site work is tracked via an electronic time management system. Employees will punch in at the beginning of each shift via the time clock tablet or their desk computers. Employees will clock out at the end of the work day, to document their on-site work hours. Employees working from home, or at an off-site location will log in via the management website and work according to the terms spelled out in the “Telecommuting Policy”.

The employee’s direct supervisor, and the Business Office Manager must be notified in these circumstances and is responsible for ensuring these protocols are followed. In addition, all employees working from home, must have prior authorization to do so, via the signed “Telecommuting Policy” agreement, completed and signed by the employee and the Director.

13. HOUSING FOR ESSENTIAL EMPLOYEE

This is not applicable to the Port Jefferson Free Library and its employees.

The Board of Trustees is to possess the authority to create positions; establish initial salaries of personnel not subject to salary schedules negotiated between the Library and its Staff Association and to formally appoint personnel to staff positions upon the recommendation of the Director. Appointments of pages and part-time support staff may be made by the Director subject to ratification by the Board of Trustees at a meeting subsequent to the appointment.

Further, the Board may move tentative appointments pending the satisfactory completion/resolution of specific circumstances attendant to the subject appointment.

60.2 SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY

INTRODUCTION

The Port Jefferson Free Library is committed to maintaining a workplace free from sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is a form of workplace discrimination. All employees are required to work in a manner that prevents sexual harassment in the workplace. This Policy is one component of the Port Jefferson Free Library's commitment to a discrimination-free work environment. Sexual harassment is against the law and all employees have a legal right to a workplace free from sexual harassment. Employees are urged to report sexual harassment by filing a complaint internally with the Port Jefferson Free Library. Employees can also file a complaint with a government agency or in court under federal, state or local antidiscrimination laws.

POLICY

1. The Port Jefferson Free Library's policy applies to all employees, applicants for employment, interns, whether paid or unpaid, contractors and persons conducting business, regardless of immigration status, with the Port Jefferson Free Library. In the remainder of this document, the term "employees" refers to this collective group.
2. Sexual harassment will not be tolerated. Any employee or individual covered by this policy who engages in sexual harassment or retaliation will be subject to remedial and/or disciplinary action (e.g., counseling, suspension, termination).
3. Retaliation Prohibition: No person covered by this Policy shall be subject to adverse action because the employee reports an incident of sexual harassment, provides information, or otherwise assists in any investigation of a sexual harassment complaint. The Port Jefferson Free Library will not tolerate such retaliation against anyone who, in good faith, reports or provides information about suspected sexual harassment. Any employee of the Port Jefferson Free Library who retaliates against anyone involved in a sexual harassment investigation will be subjected to disciplinary action, up to and including termination. All employees, paid or unpaid interns, or non-employees working in the workplace who believe they have been subject to such retaliation should inform a supervisor, manager, or the Assistant Director or Director of the Port Jefferson Free Library. All employees, paid or unpaid interns or non-employees who believe they have been a target of such retaliation may also seek relief in other available forums, as explained below in the section on Legal Protections.
4. Sexual harassment is offensive, is a violation of our policies, is unlawful, and may subject the Port Jefferson Free Library to liability for harm to targets of sexual harassment. Harassers may also be individually subject to liability. Employees of every level who engage in sexual harassment, including managers and supervisors who engage in sexual harassment or who allow such behavior to continue, will be penalized for such misconduct.

While this policy specifically addresses sexual harassment, harassment because of and discrimination against persons of all protected classes is prohibited. In New York State, such classes include age, race, creed, color, national origin, sexual orientation, military status, sex, disability, marital status, domestic violence victim status, gender identity and criminal history.

A non-employee is someone who is (or is employed by) a contractor, subcontractor, vendor, consultant, or anyone providing services in the workplace. Protected non-employees include persons commonly referred to as independent contractors, "gig" workers and temporary workers. Also included are persons providing equipment repair, cleaning services or any other services provided pursuant to a contract with the employer.

5. Adoption of this policy does not constitute a conclusive defense to charges of unlawful sexual harassment. Each claim of sexual harassment will be determined in accordance with existing legal standards, with due consideration of the particular facts and circumstances of the claim, including but not limited to the existence of an effective anti-harassment policy and procedure.
6. The Port Jefferson Free Library will conduct a prompt and thorough investigation that ensures due process for all parties, whenever management receives a complaint about sexual harassment, or otherwise knows of possible sexual harassment occurring. The Port Jefferson Free Library will keep the investigation confidential to the extent possible. Effective corrective action will be taken whenever sexual harassment is found to have occurred. All employees, including managers and supervisors, are required to cooperate with any internal investigation of sexual harassment.
7. All employees are encouraged to report any harassment or behaviors that violate this policy. The Port Jefferson Free Library will provide all employees a complaint form for employees to report harassment and file complaints.
8. Managers and supervisors are required to report any complaint that they receive, or any harassment that they observe or become aware of, to the Library Assistant Director or Director.
9. This policy applies to all employees, paid or unpaid interns, and non-employees and all must follow and uphold this policy. This policy must be provided to all employees and should be posted prominently in all work locations to the extent practicable (for example, in a main office, not an offsite work location) and be provided to employees upon hiring.

WHAT IS SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination and is unlawful under federal, state, and (where applicable) local law. Sexual harassment includes harassment on the basis of sex, sexual orientation, self-identified or perceived sex, gender expression, gender identity and the status of being transgender.

Sexual harassment includes unwelcome conduct which is either of a sexual nature, or which is directed at an individual because of that individual's sex when:

- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment, even if the reporting individual is not the intended target of the sexual harassment;
- Such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment;
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting an individual's employment.

A sexually harassing hostile work environment includes, but is not limited to, words, signs, jokes, pranks, intimidation or physical violence which are of a sexual nature, or which are directed at an individual because of that individual's sex. Sexual harassment also consists of any unwanted verbal or physical advances, sexually explicit derogatory statements or sexually discriminatory remarks made by someone which are offensive or objectionable to the recipient, which cause the recipient discomfort or humiliation, which interfere with the recipient's job performance.

Sexual harassment also occurs when a person in authority tries to trade job benefits for sexual favors. This can include hiring, promotion, continued employment or any other terms, conditions or privileges of employment. This is also called "quid pro quo" harassment.

Any employee who feels harassed should report such behavior so that any violation of this policy can be corrected promptly. Any harassing conduct, even a single incident, can be addressed under this policy.

Examples of Sexual Harassment

The following describes some of the types of acts that may be unlawful sexual harassment and that are strictly prohibited:

- Physical acts of a sexual nature, such as:
 - Touching, pinching, patting, kissing, hugging, grabbing, brushing against another employee's body or poking another employee's body;
 - Rape, sexual battery, molestation or attempts to commit these assaults.
- Unwanted sexual advances or propositions, such as:
 - Requests for sexual favors accompanied by implied or overt threats concerning the target's job performance evaluation, a promotion or other job benefits or detriments;
 - Subtle or obvious pressure for unwelcome sexual activities.
- Sexually oriented gestures, noises, remarks or jokes, or comments about a person's sexuality or sexual experience, which create a hostile work environment.
- Sex stereotyping occurs when conduct or personality traits are considered inappropriate simply because they may not conform to other people's ideas or perceptions about how individuals of a particular sex should act or look.
- Sexual or discriminatory displays or publications anywhere in the workplace, such as:
 - Displaying pictures, posters, calendars, graffiti, objects, promotional material, reading materials, or other materials that are sexually demeaning or pornographic. This includes such sexual displays on workplace computers or cell phones and sharing such displays while in the workplace.
- Hostile actions taken against an individual because of that individual's sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and the status of being transgender, such as:
 - Interfering with, destroying or damaging a person's workstation, tools or equipment, or otherwise interfering with the individual's ability to perform the job;
 - Sabotaging an individual's work;
 - Bullying, yelling, name-calling.

Who Can Be A Target of Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment can occur between any individuals, regardless of their sex or gender. New York Law protects employees, paid or unpaid interns, and non-employees, including independent contractors, and those employed by companies contracting to provide services in the workplace. Harassers can be a superior, a subordinate, a coworker or anyone in the workplace including an independent contractor, contract worker, vendor, client, customer or visitor.

Where Can Sexual Harassment Occur

Unlawful sexual harassment is not limited to the physical workplace itself. It can occur while employees are traveling for business or at employer sponsored events or parties. Calls, texts, emails, and social media usage by employees can constitute unlawful workplace harassment, even if they occur away from the workplace premises, on personal devices or during non-work hours.

RETALIATION

Unlawful retaliation can be any action that could discourage a worker from coming forward to make or support a sexual harassment claim. Adverse action need not be job-related or occur in the workplace to constitute unlawful retaliation (e.g., threats of physical violence outside of work hours).

Such retaliation is unlawful under federal, state, and (where applicable) local law. The New York State Human Rights Law protects any individual who has engaged in “protected activity.” Protected activity occurs when a person has:

- made a complaint of sexual harassment, either internally or with any anti-discrimination agency;
- testified or assisted in a proceeding involving sexual harassment under the Human Rights Law or other anti-discrimination law;
- opposed sexual harassment by making a verbal or informal complaint to management, or by simply informing a supervisor or manager of harassment;
- reported that another employee has been sexually harassed; or
- encouraged a fellow employee to report harassment.

Even if the alleged harassment does not turn out to rise to the level of a violation of law, the individual is protected from retaliation if the person had a good faith belief that the practices were unlawful. However, the retaliation provision is not intended to protect persons making intentionally false charges of harassment.

REPORTING SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Preventing Sexual Harassment Is Everyone’s Responsibility

The Port Jefferson Free Library cannot prevent or remedy sexual harassment unless it knows about it. Any employee, paid or unpaid intern or non-employee who has been subjected to behavior that may constitute sexual harassment is encouraged to report such behavior to a supervisor, manager or the Assistant Director or Director of The Port Jefferson Free Library. Anyone who witnesses or becomes aware of potential instances of sexual harassment should report such behavior to a supervisor, manager or the Assistant Director or Director.

Reports of sexual harassment may be made verbally or in writing. A form for submission of a written complaint is attached to this Policy, and all employees are encouraged to use this complaint form. Employees who are reporting sexual harassment on behalf of other employees should use the complaint form and note that it is on another employee’s behalf.

Employees, paid or unpaid interns or non-employees who believe they have been a target of sexual harassment may also seek assistance in other available forums, as explained below in the section on Legal Protections.

SUPERVISORY RESPONSIBILITIES

All supervisors and managers who receive a complaint or information about suspected sexual harassment, observe what may be sexually harassing behavior or for any reason suspect that sexual harassment is occurring, are required to report such suspected sexual harassment to the Assistant Director or Director.

In addition to being subject to discipline if they engaged in sexually harassing conduct themselves, supervisors and managers will be subject to discipline for failing to report suspected sexual harassment or otherwise knowingly allowing sexual harassment to continue.

Supervisors and managers will also be subject to discipline for engaging in any retaliation.

COMPLAINT AND INVESTIGATION OF SEXUAL HARASSMENT

All complaints or information about sexual harassment will be investigated, whether that information was reported in verbal or written form. Investigations will be conducted in a timely manner, and will be confidential to the extent possible.

An investigation of any complaint, information or knowledge of suspected sexual harassment will be prompt and thorough, commenced immediately and completed as soon as possible. The investigation will be kept confidential to the extent possible. All persons involved, including complainants, witnesses and alleged harassers will be accorded due process, as outlined below, to protect their rights to a fair and impartial investigation.

Any employee may be required to cooperate as needed in an investigation of suspected sexual harassment. The Port Jefferson Free Library will not tolerate retaliation against employees who file complaints, support another's complaint or participate in an investigation regarding a violation of this policy.

While the process may vary from case to case, investigations should be done in accordance with the following steps:

- Upon receipt of a complaint, the Director will conduct an immediate review of the allegations, and take any interim actions (e.g., instructing the respondent to refrain from communications with the complainant), as appropriate. If the complaint is verbal, encourage the individual to complete the "Complaint Form" in writing. If he or she refuses, prepare a Complaint Form based on the verbal reporting.
- If documents, emails or phone records are relevant to the investigation, take steps to obtain and preserve them.
- Request and review all relevant documents, including all electronic communications.
- Interview all parties involved, including any relevant witnesses.
- Create a written documentation of the investigation (such as a letter, memo or email), which contains the following:
 - A list of all documents reviewed, along with a detailed summary of relevant documents;
 - A list of names of those interviewed, along with a detailed summary of their statements;
 - A timeline of events;
 - A summary of prior relevant incidents, reported or unreported; and
 - The basis for the decision and final resolution of the complaint, together with any corrective action(s).
- Keep the written documentation and associated documents in a secure and confidential location.
- Promptly notify the individual who reported and the individual(s) about whom the complaint was made of the final determination and implement any corrective actions identified in the written document.
- Inform the individual who reported of the right to file a complaint or charge externally as outlined in the next section.

LEGAL PROTECTIONS AND EXTERNAL REMEDIES

Sexual harassment is not only prohibited by the Port Jefferson Free Library but is also prohibited by state, federal, and, where applicable, local law.

Aside from the internal process at the Port Jefferson Free Library, employees may also choose to pursue legal remedies with the following governmental entities. While a private attorney is not required to file a complaint with a governmental agency, you may seek the legal advice of an attorney.

In addition to those outlined below, employees in certain industries may have additional legal protections.

State Human Rights Law (HRL)

The Human Rights Law (HRL), codified as N.Y. Executive Law, art. 15, § 290 et seq., applies to all employers in New York State with regard to sexual harassment, and protects employees, paid or unpaid interns and non-employees, regardless of immigration status. A complaint alleging violation of the Human Rights Law may be filed either with the Division of Human Rights (DHR) or in New York State Supreme Court.

Complaints with DHR may be filed any time within one year of the harassment. If an individual did not file at DHR, they can sue directly in state court under the HRL, within three years of the alleged sexual harassment. An individual may not file with DHR if they have already filed a HRL complaint in state court.

Complaining internally to the Port Jefferson Free Library does not extend your time to file with DHR or in court. The one year or three years is counted from date of the most recent incident of harassment.

You do not need an attorney to file a complaint with DHR, and there is no cost to file with DHR.

DHR will investigate your complaint and determine whether there is probable cause to believe that sexual harassment has occurred. Probable cause cases are forwarded to a public hearing before an administrative law judge. If sexual harassment is found after a hearing, DHR has the power to award relief, which varies but may include requiring your employer to take action to stop the harassment, or redress the damage caused, including paying of monetary damages, attorney's fees and civil fines.

DHR's main office contact information is: NYS Division of Human Rights, One Fordham Plaza, Fourth Floor, Bronx, New York 10458. You may call (718) 741-8400 or visit: www.dhr.ny.gov.

Contact DHR at (888) 392-3644 or visit dhr.ny.gov/complaint for more information about filing a complaint. The website has a complaint form that can be downloaded, filled out, notarized and mailed to DHR. The website also contains contact information for DHR's regional offices across New York State.

Civil Rights Act of 1964

The United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) enforces federal anti-discrimination laws, including Title VII of the 1964 federal Civil Rights Act (codified as 42 U.S.C. § 2000e et seq.). An individual can file a complaint with the EEOC anytime within 300 days from the harassment. There is no cost to file a complaint with the EEOC. The EEOC will investigate the complaint, and determine whether there is reasonable cause to believe that discrimination has occurred, at which point the EEOC will issue a Right to Sue letter permitting the individual to file a complaint in federal court.

The EEOC does not hold hearings or award relief, but may take other action including pursuing cases in federal court on behalf of complaining parties. Federal courts may award remedies if discrimination is found to have occurred. In general, private employers must have at least 15 employees to come within the jurisdiction of the EEOC.

An employee alleging discrimination at work can file a "Charge of Discrimination." The EEOC has district, area, and field offices where complaints can be filed. Contact the EEOC by calling 1-800-669-4000 (TTY: 1-800-669-6820), visiting their website at www.eeoc.gov or via email at info@eeoc.gov.

If an individual filed an administrative complaint with DHR, DHR will file the complaint with the EEOC to preserve the right to proceed in federal court.

Local Protections

Many localities enforce laws protecting individuals from sexual harassment and discrimination. An individual should contact the county, city or town in which they live to find out if such a law exists. For example, employees who work in New York City may file complaints of sexual harassment with the New York City Commission on Human Rights. Contact their main office at Law Enforcement Bureau of the NYC Commission on Human Rights, 40 Rector Street, 10th Floor, New York, New York; call 311 or (212) 306-7450; or visit www.nyc.gov/html/cchr/html/home/home.shtml.

Contact the Local Police Department

If the harassment involves unwanted physical touching, coerced physical confinement or coerced sex acts, the conduct may constitute a crime. Contact the local police department.

If you believe that you have been subjected to sexual harassment, you are encouraged to complete this form and submit it to the Library Director. You will not be retaliated against for filing a complaint.

If you are more comfortable reporting verbally or in another manner, your employer should complete this form, provide you with a copy and follow its sexual harassment prevention policy by investigating the claims as outlined at the end of this form.

60.5 WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

1. GENERAL

The Port Jefferson Free Association Library requires that Directors, officers, employees and volunteers meet the highest standards of business and personal ethics in the conduct of their duties and responsibilities. As representatives of the Library, directors, officers, employees and volunteers will be expected to practice honesty and integrity in fulfilling responsibilities and complying with all applicable policies, laws and regulations.

2. REPORTING RESPONSIBILITY

It is the responsibility of the Directors, officers, employees and volunteers to report violations and/or suspected violations of law or policy in accordance with this Whistleblower Policy.

3. NO RETALIATION

Section 715-B of the Not-for-Profit Corporation Law prohibits retaliatory action for reporting a violation of law, rule or regulation, for which the person reasonably believes constitutes a violation. No Directors, officers, employees or volunteers who in good faith report a violation are to suffer harassment or retaliation; nor will he or she if employed suffer an adverse employment consequence. A Director, officer, employee or volunteer who retaliates against one who has reported a violation in good faith will be subject to discipline or sanction. This Whistleblower Policy is intended to encourage and enable Directors, officers, employees and volunteers to raise concerns within the Library pertaining to alleged violations of policy, law or regulations.

4. REPORTING VIOLATIONS

The Library recommends that officers, employees and volunteers share their questions, concerns or complaints with a superior who can address them properly. In most cases, the officer's, employee's or volunteer's supervisor is in the best position to address an area of concern. However, if the officer, employee or volunteer determines not to confer with his or her supervisor, the director, officer, employee or volunteer may confer with one of the administrative staff. A Director's concern relating to an alleged violation should be raised before the entire board. Supervisors are required to report alleged violations to the Library Director. The Library Director possesses specific and exclusive responsibility to investigate all reported violations and is required to report to the Board of Trustees regarding compliance matters. If the Director is a party to the alleged violation of law or policy, the whistleblower may approach the President, of the Library Board of Trustees.

5. ACCOUNTING AND AUDITING MATTERS

The Board of Trustees shall address all reported concerns and complaints regarding the Library's accounting practices, internal controls and auditing. The Library Director shall immediately notify the Board of Trustees of any such complaint and shall collaborate with the Board until the matter is resolved.

6. ACTING IN GOOD FAITH

Anyone filing a complaint concerning a violation or suspected violation must be acting in good faith and have reasonable grounds for believing that the information disclosed indicates a violation. Any allegation that proves to be false or unsubstantiated, and which proves to have been made maliciously or knowingly, will be viewed as a serious offense requiring disciplinary action or sanction.

7. CONFIDENTIALITY

Violations or suspected violations may be submitted on a confidential basis by the complainant. Reports of violations or suspected violations will be kept confidential to the extent possible consistent with the need to conduct an adequate investigation.

8. HANDLING REPORTED VIOLATIONS

The Library Director will acknowledge receipt of the reported violation or suspected violation within five (5) business days. All reports will be promptly investigated and appropriate corrective action will be taken if warranted by the investigation.

60.6 PERFORMANCE EVALUATION OF THE LIBRARY DIRECTOR

PURPOSE

This policy provides a framework for regular, documented and objective performance evaluations of the Library Director by the Board of Trustees. The model to be used is one that ties the responsibility for Library performance to the Director. A comprehensive evaluation of the Library's operations and the director's actions in his capacity will provide the Board with a picture of how well the director is performing.

This approach encourages the Board and the Director to work as a team to devise goals and objectives that will improve the Library and shape its future development. The purpose of the performance evaluation is:

- To ensure that Library goals and priorities for service are being met;
- To provide the Director with a clear understanding of the Board's expectations;
- To inform the Director of how well these expectations are being met;
- To highlight areas that have shown excellent performance outcomes;
- To identify the areas in need of development within the director's skill set and the organization so that improvements may be made;
- To provide an opportunity for the Board and the Director to work together to set new goals for the coming year (i.e., a work plan); and
- To ensure that the Board and the Director share a common vision of what the Library is today and what it will become in the future.

STATEMENT OF POLICY

1. A formal, written performance evaluation of the Director should be performed annually by the end of the fiscal year.
2. The performance evaluation will be based on the following standards:
 - 2.1 Performance in the areas of responsibility that are described in the Director's job description and/or employment contract
 - 2.2 Achievement of mutually agreed-upon goals within a specific time frame
 - 2.3 The overall performance of the Library

3. The evaluation process spans several months and consists of the following steps:

3.1 APRIL

3.1.1 The Director delivers to the Board an annual report describing the year's activities and accomplishments against the work plan.

3.1.2 The Board also receives copies of the current year's work plan and the Director's job description and/or employment contract. Other documents that will aid in the performance evaluation, such as usage statistics, financial reports, the most recent financial audit, the strategic plan, Director and Department reports from the monthly Board meeting packets, and the performance evaluation from the previous year, grievances, whistleblower complaints, sexual harassment complaints or official statements from staff, public, trustees and/or any other materials as seen fit by the Board will also be assembled. After reviewing the documents, each Trustee completes a written evaluation of the Director. In addition, compensation should be tied to performance and upcoming contracts need to reflect this.

3.1.3 The Board President summarizes the results into a written draft performance evaluation.

3.2 MAY

3.2.1 The Board reviews and approves the draft performance evaluation document.

3.2.2 The Board President meets with the Director to discuss the final performance evaluation.

3.3 JUNE

3.3.1 The written performance evaluation including any written responses from the Director is presented to the Board.

3.3.2 The Board and the Director decide on goals to be included in the next year's work plan.

3.4 JULY

3.4.1 The written work plan for the new fiscal year is submitted to the Board for review and approval.

3.4.2 The evaluation process is evaluated and changes are made as needed.

60.7 WORKPLACE VIOLENCE PREVENTION POLICY

The Port Jefferson Free Library (“the Library”) is dedicated and committed to providing a safe and secure work environment that promotes the achievement of its mission. All employees of the Library are expected to promote a safe working environment which is free from violence and other types of workplace dislocation.

The purpose of this policy is to address the potential of violence in the workplace, and to help prevent violence from occurring. The best prevention available for workplace violence is to identify problems early and to remediate them.

1. DEFINITION

Workplace violence is defined as any physical assault or acts of aggressive behavior occurring where an employee performs any work-related duty in the course of his or her employment. Workplace violence includes but is not limited to:

- a. An attempt or threat, whether verbal or physical, to inflict physical injury upon an employee;
- b. Any intentional display of force which would give an employee reason to fear or expect bodily harm;
- c. Intentional and wrongful physical contact with a person without his or her consent that entails some injury;
- d. Stalking an employee with the intent of causing fear of material harm to the physical safety and health of such employee when such stalking has arisen through and in the course of employment.

2. POLICY

The Port Jefferson Free Library prohibits any form of workplace violence. Complaints involving workplace violence will be given serious attention, and no retaliation will be taken against an individual who makes a complaint in good faith. Individuals who violate this policy may be removed from the Library and are subject to disciplinary action and/or personnel action up to and including termination, consistent with Library policies and labor agreements, and/or referral to law enforcement authorities for criminal prosecution.

An employee of the Library who applies for or obtains a protective or restraining order that lists Library locations as protected areas, must provide the Library Director a copy of the petition and declarations used to seek the order, as well as a copy of any temporary or permanent protective or restraining order that was granted.

The Port Jefferson Free Library, at the request of an employee or in its own discretion, may prohibit members of the public, including family members, from visiting an employee while at work on Library property. This may be applied in cases where an employee suspects that another employee may be subjected to violence.

While on Library property, no employee, Board member, volunteer, or visitor, except for those in law enforcement, is permitted to possess a firearm or other dangerous weapon, instrument or material that can be used to inflict bodily harm on an individual or damage Library property. No employee, Board member or volunteer of the Library shall be permitted to possess any weapons in his/her vehicle while parked on Library property.

3. REPORTING OF INCIDENTS

No incident of workplace violence is to be ignored by any employee of the Library. All incidents must be reported to the Library Director at the earliest possible time. If the incident involves the Library Director, a report must be made to the President of the Board of Trustees or other officer. It is important that all employees of the Library adhere to this policy to maintain the Library as a safe working environment.

All reports of workplace violence will be kept confidential to the extent possible. The Library will act on the basis of anonymous complaints where it has a reasonable basis to believe there has been a violation of the policy and that the safety and welfare of Library employees would be served by such action.

4. CRITICAL INCIDENT MANAGEMENT/CRISIS COUNSELING

If a traumatic, violent incident occurs in the workplace or to a Library employee outside of the workplace, the Library Director will take measures to assist all staff through a debriefing and crisis counseling.

5. TRAINING AND RISK ASSESSMENT

The Library will provide annual training dealing with workplace violence prevention and various risk issues to all of its personnel. The Library will also review violence prevention policies and procedures in conjunction with a risk assessment on an annual basis.

60.8 TELECOMMUTING POLICY

The Port Jefferson Free Library considers telecommuting (working from home) to be a viable alternative work arrangement in certain cases when job duties and assignments may be accomplished thereby. telecommuting allows employees to work at home or in a satellite location for all or part of their regular workweek. Telecommuting is a work alternative that may only be appropriate for certain employees performing certain jobs. Telecommuting assignments are to be undertaken within the sole discretion of the Library Director.

PROCEDURE

1. A supervisor may suggest to the Director telecommuting as a possible work arrangement for specific employees.
2. Definitions:

Individuals requesting telecommuting assignments must hold the Port Jefferson Free Library positions necessitating duties that may be accomplished by way of such an assignment. Any such telecommuting assignment will be made on a trial basis for three (3) months and may be discontinued at any time by direction of the Library Director.
3. The Director will determine, with information supplied by the employee and his or her supervisor, the appropriate equipment and software needs for each telecommuting assignment on a case by case basis. Business Office staff will serve as resources in this matter. Employee supplied equipment and/or software may be used if deemed appropriate by the Port Jefferson Free Library, subject to suspension at any time. Equipment and/or software supplied by the Port Jefferson Free Library will be maintained by the Library. Equipment and/or software supplied by the employee will be maintained by the employee. The Port Jefferson Free Library assumes no responsibility for damage or repairs to employee-owned equipment and or software. Upon termination of employment all Port Jefferson Free Library will be returned to the Library, unless other arrangements have been made.
4. Measures include use of locked file cabinets and desks, regular password maintenance, and any others appropriate for the job and the home environment established.

1. Home worksite/office is a set aside defined space to conduct Port Jefferson Free Library work. Appropriate equipment, software, and phone and Internet access is required. Some telecommuting arrangements, such as IT Support Services, may also require high-speed Internet access.

2. A shared use agreement may allow the use of equipment supplied or subsidized by the Port Jefferson Free Library for both business and private use.

5. The employee will establish an appropriate work environment within his or her home for work purposes. The Port Jefferson Free Library will not be responsible for costs associated with the initial setup of the employee's home worksite/office, such as remodeling, supplying furniture or lighting, nor for repairs or modifications to the home office space. Employees will receive guidance in staging a workstation designed for safe, comfortable work, and will be provided information to assess workspaces for ergonomic risks.
6. Library employees may not meet in their home with another person related to the conduct of the Port Jefferson Free Library business.
7. Injuries sustained by the employee while at his or her home worksite during documented worktime sans in conjunction with her or her regular work duties may be covered by the Port Jefferson Free Library workers' compensation policy. Telecommuting employees are responsible for notifying the Business office and their supervisors of such injuries as soon as possible. Failure to notify the Port Jefferson Free Library within thirty (30) days of the accident may result in denial of benefits in accordance with NYS insurance Fund procedures. Telecommuting employees who are not exempt from the overtime requirements of the Fair Standards Act will be required to record all hours worked in a manner designated by the Port Jefferson Free Library. Telecommuting employees will be held to high expectation of compliance due to the nature of the work arrangement. Hours worked in excess of those specified per day and per workweek will require the advance approval of the employee's supervisor. Failure to comply with this requirement may result in the immediate cessation of the telecommuting assignment.

FORMAL TELECOMMUTING AGREEMENT

Before entering into a telecommuting agreement, the employee and supervisor, with the assistance of the Library Director, will evaluate the suitability of such an arrangement, paying particular attention to the following areas:

- A. Employee Suitability: The employee and supervisor will assess the needs and strengths of the employee, compared to those customarily recognized as appropriate for successful telecommuters.
- B. Job Duties: The employee and supervisor will discuss the job responsibilities of scheduling issues and determine his or her job duties as assigned may be accomplished under such an arrangement.
- C. Home Worksite/Office: The employee and supervisor will consider the home worksite/office space and equipment needs for the employee to work at home
- D. Tax and Other Legal Implications for the Business Use of the Employee's Home Based on Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and State and Local Government Restrictions: Responsibility for fulfilling all resolutory obligations area rest solely with the employee.
 - 1. If the employee and supervisor agree, and the Library Director concurs, a draft formal telecommuting agreement will be prepared and signed by all parties, a three-month trial period will commence.
 - 2. Evaluation of telecommuter performance during the trial period may include interaction by phone and email between the employee and supervisor, and weekly face-to-face meetings to discuss progress and any issues arising. At the conclusion of the trial period, the employee and supervisor will each complete an evaluation of the arrangement and make recommendations for the continuance, modifications, or cessation. Evaluation of telecommuter performance beyond the trial period will be consistent with that received by employees working at the Library in both content and frequency and will focus on work output and completion of objectives.
 - 3. An appropriate level of communication between the telecommuter and supervisor will be agreed to as part of the discussion process and will be more structured during the trial period. After the conclusion of the trial period, the supervisor and telecommuter will communicate on a level consistent with employees working at the Library or in a manner and frequency that is deemed appropriate for the assignment
 - 4. Telecommuting is not designed to be a basis for assuming appropriate family care. Although an individual employee's schedule may be modified to accommodate child-business needs, the focus of the arrangement must remain on job performance and meeting business demands. Prospective telecommuters are expected to discuss the requirements of telecommuting with family members prior to entering into a trial period.
 - 5. Employees entering into a telecommuting agreement may forfeit use of personal office or workstation in order to maximize Port Jefferson Free Library office space needs.
 - 6. The availability of telecommuting as a flexible work arrangement for employees of the Library may be discontinued any anytime at the discretion of the Library Director. Every effort will be made to provide thirty (30) days' notice of such a change to accommodate commuting, child-care, and other matters that may arise from such a change. There may be instances however, when no notice is possible.

TELECOMMUTING PROCEDURE

1. All telecommuting arrangements are made on a case by case basis, focusing first on the needs of the Port Jefferson Free Library.
2. If the employee and supervisor agree on a telecommuting arrangement, the employee may be required to complete and submit the Informal Telecommuting Request Form, at the discretion of the supervisor.

The Library retains the right to amend or terminate this policy at any time.

1. Employees may not drive the Library vehicle without prior approval of the Director and may only use it for Library business. Prior to approving a driver and annually thereafter, the Director must check the employee's driving record by getting verification from the Library's insurance company. Employees approved to drive on Library business are required to inform their supervisor of any changes that may affect either their legal or physical ability to drive or their continued insurability.
2. Employees holding jobs requiring regular driving for business as an essential job function must, as a condition of employment, be able to meet the driver approval standards of this policy.

As an alternative, when the Library vehicle is not available, employees may use their own vehicles for business purposes with prior approval of the Director.
4. Employees who drive a vehicle on Library business must, in addition to meeting the approval requirements above, exercise due diligence to drive safely and to maintain the security of the vehicle and its contents. Use of handheld cell phones (including texting) while behind the wheel of a moving vehicle being used on Library business is strictly prohibited and cell phones must be placed on "do not disturb" while driving. Employees are responsible for any driving infractions or fines as a result of their driving.
5. Nonemployees (i.e., family and friends) are prohibited from riding in the Library vehicle.

7. Employees must report any accident, theft, or malicious damage involving the Library vehicle to their Supervisor and the Library Director, regardless of the extent of damage or lack of injuries. Such reports must be made as soon as possible, but no later than the end of day after the incident. Employees are expected to cooperate fully with authorities in the event of an accident. However, employees should make no voluntary statement other than in reply to questions of investigating officers.

Additionally, employees shall not operate the Library vehicle at any time or operate any personal vehicle while on Library business while using or consuming alcohol, illegal drugs, or prescription medications that may affect their ability to drive. These prohibitions include circumstances in which the employee is temporarily unable to operate a vehicle safely or legally because of impairment, illness, medication, or intoxication.

Pre-employment Background Check Policy

The Port Jefferson Free Library is committed to providing a secure and safe environment for employees and patrons as well as safeguarding the resources and assets of the Library. The Library hereby adopts a policy providing for pre-employment background checks on final applicants and Library volunteers regardless of whether or not a competitive canvassing process is used. The purpose of the investigation is to verify and review information provided by the applicant/volunteer in order to select the best qualified applicants.

Consent to background checks is to be deemed a condition of employment for new employees and volunteers at the Port Jefferson Free Library. An offer of employment is contingent upon clear and satisfactory results of a background check.

Students applying for Page positions or students aged 18 and under applying for volunteer positions are exempt from this policy. However, if an employee who is exempt at first hiring is promoted and no longer a high school student, the Library reserves the right to conduct a background check at the time of promotion.

Employees for whom the Library has a completed background check on file and who have a break in Library service will not, upon their return, require a new background check if: 1.) they can show they have been continuously and actively employed since their break of service from the Library and 2.) less than two years has passed.

Background checks will be initiated by designated "Authorized Initiators" in the Administration Office. Authorized Initiators may only initiate background checks after an Authorization for Background Check has been completed and signed by the applicant/volunteer. Background checks may include:

- Social Security Verification – validates the applicant's social security number, date of birth and former addresses.
- National Sexual Offender Registry check
- Nationwide Criminal Database check • Driver History check (if applicable)

The Library will engage a reputable Background Check vendor to conduct background checks.

The results of background checks will be reviewed by the Director and/or supervisory staff designated by the Director. Results will be compared with information previously provided by the applicant/ volunteer. Applicants/volunteers may be asked to explain discrepancies, if any are found. Information gathered as a result of a background check will remain confidential and will be maintained by the "Authorized Initiators" in a file separate from employees' personnel files. Results shall only be disclosed to authorized employees who have a need to know in order to perform their job assignments.

If the background check reveals criminal records or serious misconduct (other than minor traffic violations), the Authorized Initiator will consult with the Library Director, who will consult with Legal Counsel. The Library will make the determination as to whether the Background Check results should disqualify the applicant/ volunteer. When making this determination, consideration shall include, but not be limited to, the following factors:

- a. number of offenses and circumstances of each;
- b. severity of offense(s);
- c. relevance of offense(s) to responsibilities of the position;
- d. length of time between offense(s) and application for employment;
- e. other employment history;
- f. evidence of applicant's rehabilitation efforts and results;

Applicants/volunteers will be informed, in writing, of any adverse information discovered in the background check and provided an opportunity to respond. Upon conclusion of review, written notice regarding the Library's decision regarding eligibility of employment will be sent to the applicant.

Failure to disclose criminal convictions or any other deemed relevant information during the application process may result in employment disqualification or termination.

Disqualification of an applicant based on information discovered in the background check is not subject to grievance or appeal by the applicant.

Exceptions to the Pre-Employment Background Check Policy may be made at the discretion of the Library Director.
